

Mustard

MU8-500 - Mizuna Mustard Seeds

60 days. Brassica rapa. Open Pollinated. Mizuna Mustard. The plant produces good yields of flavorful green mustard leaves. The feathery leaves are mild and spicy. Used in salads or cooked. Slow to bolt. Heat Tolerant. Cold Tolerant. Suitable for hydroponics gardening. Excellent choice for home gardens and market growers. A variety from India. United States Department of Agriculture, PI 662687.

MU9-500 - Tatsoi Improved Mustard Seeds

55 days. Brassica juncea. Open Pollinated. Tatsoi Improved Mustard. The plant produces good yields of flavorful dark green spoon shaped mustard leaves. This oriental vegetable forms dense leaves that can also be harvested as a whole plant and bunched. Used in mixed salads, soups, cooked, or stir-fries. Also known as Tah Tsai Mustard. Cold Tolerant. Suitable for hydroponics gardening. Excellent choice for home gardens. United States Department of Agriculture, PI 662690.

